Color/sound therapy with the Audiocolor helps strengthen the general constitution. Twelve colors (based on Goethe's color cycle) can be mixed across four octaves, either individually or in combination, to create an individualized therapy.

Why does one patient cope better with allergies and environmental pollution than another? What is behind this, what does the difference consist of? The key concept is "constitution": our overall physical condition, which has considerable influence on our immune system's functional capacity, is in part inherited – but only in part. The harmonizing effects of colors and sounds can strengthen the constitution. Patients are less susceptible to environmental pollution and can better and more harmoniously cope with life's daily stresses
